STUDENT LOAN INTEREST RATES DROP – AGAIN!

For the fourth consecutive year, student loan interest rates have dropped to their lowest point in nearly 35 years. The new reduced interest rates will benefit many students and families by making college more affordable for them. The interest rate for Stafford loans made during the upcoming 2004-2005 academic year is 2.77% for students who are in school and 3.37% during a borrower's repayment period.

The annual variable rate for all new Stafford and PLUS loans is based on the bond equivalent rate of 91-day Treasury Bills (T-Bill) auctioned at the end of each May. The bond equivalent rate for 91-day T-Bills auctioned on May 24, 2004, is 1.07%.

Details of the rates for new and existing loans that become effective July 1, 2004, are attached to this issue of Educational Loan Notes. If you have any questions, please contact Betty Calloway at 1-800-642-5626, extension 39639, or via email at callowayb@michigan.gov.

PAT SCOTT NAMED CEO OF STUDENT FINANCIAL SERVICES

State Treasurer Jay B. Rising recently announced that Patricia W. Scott, Michigan Guaranty Agency (MGA) and Michigan Higher Education Student Loan Authority (MHESLA) Director, has accepted the position of Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of the Michigan Department of Treasury's Student Financial Services Bureau. Pat has been the Director of MGA and MHESLA since November 2002, and has been with MGA for over 13 years.

As a result of Pat's promotion, the divisions of the Bureau of Student Financial Assistance will reorganize. MGA and MHESLA will separate. Diane Todd Sprague is the new Director of MGA. Gary Harvey is the new Director of MHESLA in addition to his responsibility for the Office of Fiscal Affairs. Gary also serves as the Chief Financial Officer for the bureau. The Office of Scholarships and Grants will merge with the Office of Information and Resources and the Michigan Merit Award Program to form one office under the direction of Anne Wohlfert. This new division is called the Office of Scholarships and Grants. The Office of the Michigan Education Trust and Michigan Education Savings Program will remain under the direction of Robin McMillan.

The restructured divisions will offer both improved service and efficiencies for Michigan's schools, lenders, and students. Consolidating toll-free telephone numbers so there is one number to call for assistance for any scholarship, grant, Merit Award, or campus-based program issue is under consideration. Other improvements in services are anticipated in the near future.

Below is a table that depicts the divisions and directors prior to Pat Scott's recent appointment, followed by a table that shows the restructured divisions and directors.

2004 SPRING SCHOOL WORKSHOPS

MGA sponsored Spring School Workshops in Grand Rapids and Plymouth on May 25 and 26. The workshops were well received by the 79 financial aid participants from 44 different schools that attended. Kochie Richardson, Customer Training Representative, Sallie Mae Guarantee Services, presented valuable information on:

- Policy and Regulatory Updates
- Federal Methodology
- A Closer Look at Consolidation

Flora Boles, MGA School Services, presented sessions on:

- Information Security
- Bankruptcy

The information security presentation illustrated that identity theft is among the top 20 of the fastest growing crimes in the United States. This session covered tips on how to educate students and staff regarding ways to properly handle and protect bankruptcy, MGA's policies, and the timeframes that affect different types of bankruptcies.

Michele Anderson, Student Borrower Services (SBS), presented information on the role that SBS plays in MGA's default aversion strategy by contacting high-risk borrowers during their grace period. She also shared the most common borrower misunderstandings about repayment:

- Difference between Federal Family Education Loan Program (FFELP) and Federal Direct Loan Program (FDLP) loans.
- Borrower returns to school after loan goes into repayment.
- Difference between forbearance and deferment.
- Borrower is in school, but attending less than half time.

Justin Draeger, MGA Customer Services, shed new light on defaulted borrowers by reviewing and outlining statistical data from MGA's 2002 cohort year. Based on that data, Justin shared several new initiatives that MGA is implementing in its continuing efforts to help schools reduce their cohort default rates. These initiatives include:

- A new exit packet designed specifically for withdrawn students that schools will be able to order from MGA and then easily mail out.
- Two new reports that schools can order from MGA that focus on a student's high debt load or academic year.
- A "Default Aversion Best Practices" symposium being planned for this fall.

Based on the positive comments we received, the workshops were educational. Notebooks covering the agenda topics are available to all schools. To order a notebook or if you have questions regarding the material covered at the workshops, contact the School Services Unit at extension 36074.

A BRIEF LOOK AT LOAN FORGIVENESS

There are a number of reasons that a student loan may be forgiven. Following is an explanation of each of the reasons for canceling student loan debt, along with the criteria that must be met in each instance.

FALSE CERTIFICATION

A student loan will be cancelled if the school falsely certified the student's eligibility for the loan. To qualify for a false certification loan cancellation, the student (or the student for whom a PLUS loan was borrowed) must have received monies from a loan disbursed on or after January 1, 1986. Following are the three types of False Certification and the specific criteria that must be met to qualify:

Ability to Benefit:

- The school admitted the student when he or she did not meet the requirements for admission, such as not having a high school diploma or GED, or
- At the time the school certified the loan, the student had a condition that prevented him or her from meeting the legal requirements for employment in the program of study.

Disqualifying Status:

- The school signed a student's name on the application and/or promissory note without their authorization, and the borrower did not receive the loan funds.

Unauthorized Signature:

- The school endorsed a student's name on the loan check or signed the authorization for electronic funds transfer or master check without their consent, and the borrower did not receive the loan funds.

If the student believes they may qualify for loan forgiveness due to false certification, they should contact MGA's Beverly Bristol at extension 39976 to request the appropriate form.

CLOSED SCHOOL

A student loan will be cancelled if a student (or a student for whom a PLUS loan was borrowed) received loan funds on or after January 1, 1986, to attend a school that closed before they could complete their program of study. The student must have been unable to complete the program because:

- The school closed while they were enrolled,
- The school closed while they were on an approved leave of absence, or
- The student withdrew within 90 days of the school closing, and
- The student was unable to transfer credits or hours earned at the closed school.

TEACHER FORGIVENESS

Students may be eligible to have up to $5,000 of their loans forgiven. To qualify for teacher loan forgiveness all of the following criteria must be met:

- As of October 1, 1998, they must have had no outstanding balance on a FFELP loan, or have had no outstanding loan balance at the time they obtained a loan after that date.
- They must teach full-time at a designated school for five consecutive, complete academic years. At least one of the years of teaching service must be after the 1997-98 academic year.
- The loan for which they are requesting forgiveness must have been made before the end of their fifth year of qualifying teaching service.
- They must teach at an elementary or secondary school in a low-income school district that is listed in the Annual Directory of Designated Low-Income Schools for Teacher Cancellation Benefits.
- If teaching at an elementary school, the chief administrative officer of that school must certify that they demonstrate knowledge and teaching skills in reading, writing, mathematics, and other areas of the elementary school curriculum.
- If teaching at a secondary school, the chief administrative officer of that school must certify that they teach in a subject area that is relevant to their academic major.

To apply for teacher loan forgiveness or for more information about the program as it relates to FFELP, the student should contact their loan holder.

UNPAID REFUND

A portion of a student loan will be cancelled if:

- The student (or the student for whom a PLUS loan was borrowed) received funds for a loan disbursed, in whole or in part, on or after January 1, 1986, and

- The student withdrew from, was terminated from, or did not attend the school, and a refund of Title IV funds should have been made, but was not.

Note: A student may not apply for this cancellation if they are currently attending the school. In addition, if the school is currently open, they may not apply for this type of cancellation unless they have first contacted the school and attempted to resolve the issue.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY

Student loans will be cancelled if the student becomes totally and permanently disabled and is certified as such by a medical doctor or a doctor of osteopathy. The student loans will be turned over to the U.S. Department of Education (ED). Permanent cancellation of a student loan may require additional certification after three years by a physician and by ED.

DEATH CANCELLATION

Loans will be cancelled if the borrower (or the student for whom a PLUS loan was borrowed) dies. A certified death certificate is required.

CHILD CARE PROVIDER LOAN FORGIVENESS

A portion of a student loan may be forgiven if the borrower meets the following criteria:

- New applicant with loans received after October 7, 1998.
- Received an associate's or bachelor's degree in the field of early childhood education or childcare that was awarded from an institution of higher education after October 7, 1998.
- Worked full-time for at least two consecutive years as a child care provider in a facility that serves a low-income community.

Note: This is an annual application and forgiveness may be granted based on funds available on a national basis.

Questions concerning loan forgiveness should be directed to MGA's Customer Services Unit at extension 77009.

SUBSCRIPTION SERVICE SPECIFICSCollapsing Disbursement Dates Service for FFELP Schools

Q. Our school has occasionally certified loans that have multiple past disbursement dates and the loan funds arrive as one disbursement. Is there a way to receive these loan funds in two disbursements?

A. Yes, the Michigan Guaranty Agency has a Collapsing Disbursement Dates service to correct this issue. Currently, schools by default have their multiple past disbursements collapsed into a single disbursement. For those schools that wish to subscribe to this service, loans with multiple past disbursement dates can be disbursed in multiple disbursements on the same day, as opposed to a single disbursement.

If this service is an option your school would like to utilize, please feel free to contact MGA to learn more about this alternative. You may also request MGA to subscribe your institution for this service directly via email. Submit your request to Stacy Cardwell at cardwells@michigan.gov or call extension 36074.

THE HEROES ACT OF 2003

HR 1412, the Higher Education Relief Opportunities for Students (The HEROES Act) Act of 2003, was signed into law by President Bush on August 20, 2003.

The HEROES Act gives the Secretary of Education broad authority to waive or modify requirements or regulations pertaining to the Title IV student aid programs of the Higher Education Act. Individuals affected by this bill include active duty military personnel; those performing National Guard duty during a war; operation or national emergency people residing in a declared disaster area; and people who have suffered economic hardship as a direct result of a war, military operation, or emergency.

Specifically, The HEROES Act authorizes the Secretary to grant waivers that ensure that:

- Affected aid recipients are not penalized financially because they have been called to duty.

- Administrative requirements placed on affected recipients are minimized to avoid violation or default.
- Income calculations may be modified in light of the special circumstances.
- Institutions of higher education, lenders, guarantors, and others located in declared disaster areas may be granted temporary relief from reporting and due diligence, among other requirements.

For more information concerning the HEROES Act of 2003, link to the Federal Register Notice that was published on December 12, 2003, announcing waivers and modifications of statutory and regulatory provisions that are appropriate to assist individuals who are affected by various military actions or federally declared disasters. The Secretary of Education provides these waivers and modifications under the authority of section 2(a) of the Higher Education Relief Opportunities for Students \(HEROES\) Act of 2003.

If you have any questions or comments related to the Title IV loan programs, you may contact Ms. Gail McLarnon at 202-219-7048 or via email at Gail.McLarnon@ed.gov, or Mr. George Harris at 202-502-7521 or via email at GeorgeOPE.Harris@ed.gov.

GUIDANCE ON REQUESTING A LATE
DISBURSEMENT AFTER 120 DAYS

ED's November 1, 2002, final rules [668.164(g)(4)(i)] extended the deadline to make late disbursements to 120 days after an institution's determination that the student withdrew or, for students who did not withdraw, 120 days after the student otherwise became ineligible. The regulation also was amended to state that, on an exception basis and with ED's approval, an institution may make a late disbursement after the applicable 120-day period if the reason the late disbursement was not made within the 120-day period was not the fault of the student.

ED has recently established a method by which schools can initiate requests for late disbursements beyond the 120-day limit. The school must fax a request to Policy Liaison and Implementation – Late Disbursement Request at 202-275-4552. The topic of the fax should be "Permission to make a disbursement after the 120-day late disbursement deadline."

The request must include:

1. The school's name,
2. The contact person at the school, his/her phone number, and his/her email address,
3. The name of the student,
4. The student's Social Security Number (SSN),
5. The types and amounts of Title IV aid to be disbursed,
6. The Pell ID, if Pell funds are included, and
7. The reason the late disbursement was not made within the 120-day deadline.

If the request is for permission to make a late disbursement of a FFELP loan, the request must include:

1. The type of loan (subsidized, unsubsidized, or PLUS),
2. The date the loan was certified,
3. The loan period, and
4. The amount of the disbursement.

Email requests are not permitted because ED considers email to be an insecure format for transmitting SSNs. This process will be included in the appropriate section of the 2004-05 FSA Handbook.

FINAL REGULATIONS ISSUED ON STUDENT LOAN INTEREST DEDUCTION

The U.S. Department of Treasury has released regulations designed to finalize how student loan providers are to report capitalized interest and origination fee payments on form 1098-E. According to the Treasury Department, "The final regulations issued today clarify which amounts qualify for the student loan interest deduction to ensure that students obtain the maximum deduction permitted under the law. These regulations also provide guidance to help lenders meet their reporting obligations." Industry experts are analyzing the complex set of new regulations to evaluate their impact. The regulations become effective on September 1, 2004. The final regulations are available in PDF format at: <http://www.treas.gov/press/releases/reports/js1512td9125.pdf>.

Q&A

Q: Are there common examples of situations that occur with student loans and bankruptcies?

A: Yes. The following four scenarios are common examples of issues that involve bankruptcies.

Scenario #1

A school has processed a loan and receives a pending response file indicating that the loan is suspended due to errors.

- The school contacts MGA's Customer Services Unit to get clarification on why the loan did not guarantee.
- MGA informs the school that a bankruptcy claim was filed.
- The school then informs the borrower that their loan was not guaranteed and that a copy of the bankruptcy plan must be submitted to MGA.

Scenario #2

A school has not processed a loan because they noted on NSLDS that the borrower filed a bankruptcy.

- The school contacts MGA's Customer Services Unit to verify that a bankruptcy plan is on file.
- If the plan is on file with MGA, the school may process the student loan if the plan indicates eligibility for further financial aid.
- If the plan is not on file with MGA, the school informs the borrower that their loan cannot be processed and that a copy of the bankruptcy plan must be submitted to MGA.

Scenario #3

A school has made the first disbursement on a loan and is informed by the borrower prior to the second disbursement that they have filed for bankruptcy.

- The school may contact MGA's Customer Services Unit regarding the status of the bankruptcy.
- If a bankruptcy has been filed, MGA and the lender servicer will be notified. The lender may, but is not required to, make subsequent disbursements of the loan.
- If the lender chooses not to make remaining disbursements, the lender must notify the school, the borrower, and MGA of the disbursement cancellations.

Scenario #4

A school has processed a loan and receives a pending response file. If the school does not contact MGA, the following occurs:

- The loan will suspend because a bankruptcy claim is on file. The loan will be placed on the MGA "claim" log for approval or denial.
- If MGA has a bankruptcy plan on file, the loan will be approved or denied.
- If the loan is approved, it will be guaranteed up to the amount allowed in the plan. If the loan is denied, a "return loan letter" will be sent to the school.
